

Callaloo Subscription Flow Video Scripts

Para-life Trees - explainer scripts for the subscription slides

These short scripts are written to help customers understand the new callaloo subscription flow, especially plan adjustments before payment and delivery-cutoff rules after payment.

1. Subscription Intro

Callaloo subscriptions work a little differently from a normal one-time order.

You are not just buying callaloo for today. You are helping us plan your callaloo ahead of time, so your household can receive it on a steady schedule.

Before payment, you can adjust the plan until it feels right. After payment, you can still adjust future deliveries before their cutoff time.

2. Parcel Amount

Start with the amount you usually use at one time.

One parcel is estimated at about two servings. So if two people are eating callaloo for one meal, one parcel may be enough.

Choose the amount that fits one callaloo meal for your household. You can still adjust this before seeing the final price.

3. Current Use Frequency

Now choose how often you currently use callaloo.

This helps us estimate your subscription, but it is not locked yet. You can still go back and adjust your amount, frequency, or format before payment.

The goal is to build a plan that matches how your household really eats.

4. Use Days

Choose the days you expect to use callaloo.

This helps us plan delivery and preparation. For example, if delivery is Monday, there will be a cutoff time before that delivery. After the cutoff, that delivery can no longer be adjusted because we will already be preparing packages.

Future deliveries that have not reached their cutoff can still be adjusted.

5. Prep Format

Choose how you want your callaloo prepared.

You can receive it as a fresh parcel, chopped, or chopped and seasoned.

Before payment, you can change this freely. After payment, you can still adjust future deliveries before the cutoff time. So one delivery might be fresh parcels, and another might be chopped and seasoned if you know you will be busy.

6. Price Compare

This page estimates the price based on your parcel amount, use frequency, and prep format.

This is not the final commitment yet. You can still go back and adjust the plan before payment.

After payment, price changes may happen only if you adjust a future delivery before its cutoff. If the new choice costs more, you will be asked to pay the difference. If it costs less, the balance can go toward store credit or extra value according to the subscription rules.

7. Delivery Plan

This is where you fine-tune the actual deliveries.

Each delivery block can be reviewed before payment. You can adjust the quantity, prep format, and notes for each delivery.

After payment, future deliveries can still be adjusted before their cutoff time. You may also be able to add other available shop items to a delivery, like lettuce, bananas, herbs, or other items in stock.

Once the cutoff passes, that delivery is locked because preparation and packing have started.

8. Contact Details

Enter the contact information we should use for your subscription.

We will use this to send confirmations, payment updates, delivery reminders, and adjustment notices.

Use a contact method you check regularly, because cutoff times and delivery changes may depend on quick communication.

9. Delivery Details

Now tell us where the callaloo should be delivered.

Fresh callaloo depends on timing, so clear delivery details help us avoid delays.

Enter the address, parish, city, landmarks, and any notes that help us find you. If pickup or delivery options change later, we will use your selected contact method to update you.

10. Payment Options

Choose your payment option.

Before payment, you can still adjust the subscription plan and review the final price.

After payment is confirmed, your subscription becomes active. You will still be able to adjust future deliveries before their cutoff times, but deliveries already past cutoff cannot be changed.

11. Order Recorded / Thank You

Your callaloo subscription request has been recorded.

Once payment is confirmed, your subscription moves into the production and delivery workflow.

You will be able to review future deliveries, adjust them before their cutoff times, and add available shop items when possible.

When a delivery reaches its cutoff, it becomes locked so our team can harvest, prepare, pack, and send it on time.
